- How can I bring life and spirit to my confirmation ministry?
- How can I get more parents involved in ministry with their own children?
- How can I be a more engaging and effective teacher?

Answer these questions and more as you immerse yourself in three (3) days of intensive training into the “how-to’s” of the Head to the Heart (H2H) system of confirmation family faith development.

Study the philosophy, techniques, job descriptions and resources supporting this parent-involved, arts-based, small group model, and look at variations, tweaks and special challenges which small churches, middle-sized churches and large churches face when using the model.

Who Should Attend?

H2H Universities are designed for paid staff and key volunteers from all H2H congregations, regardless of the time you’ve already spent using the program.

- New members will gain and practice crucial and useful “getting started” skills
- Intermediate users will learn how to take H2H to the next level
- H2H “veterans” will appreciate H2H U as a refresher and as an option to bring new team members up to speed

Past Reviews of Head to the Heart University

"It is my belief that it is not possible for someone to be unchanged after a University. Your passion is infectious, your love for Jesus is contagious, and your team is second to none." — Amy Kippen, Fargo, ND

"I genuinely felt that you were there for us, to empower us with a way to reach youth with the saving gospel of Jesus Christ, and do it in a way that will stick and involve the whole family. And you didn't just tell us, you showed us and allowed us to experience the system, hands-on! This was a tremendous help."

— Dave Levy, San Rafael, CA

"If all conferences were like a Faith Inkubators' University, I would become a workshop junkie, a phenomenal experience." — Lynn Piwowarczyk, Phoenix, AZ

"I went to your University after my church had been involved with Faith Inkubators for two years. It was an awesome faith building experience that people who are using Faith Inkubators should go through every few years." — Ann Nizzi, Marietta, GA
